

idFX Magazine November 2006

Would you take a seat...

idFX gave Allermuir's new Pebble seating to two architects, two interior designers, a junior designer and an interior design student and asked them to create a new scheme around it...

▲ McFarlane Latter

McFarlane Latter is an architecture and interior design practice.

'We think the Pebble is fun, with a quirky little personality that kids as well as adults would love.

'This is a playroom/TV room, a space for kids to be themselves and for adults to relax. Naught One's Track sofa sits well with the little Pebble, so we thought we'd use the track theme and run with the colours of a road.

'Striped grey carpets continue the track off the sofa to the floor, so kids can whizz cars around; small Pebbles form obstacles, with detachable Velcro features for extra fun!

'The quantity of Pebbles and sofas depends on room size and the arrangement is totally adaptable. Track's modular quality, and Pebble's adaptability as stool, table – little Velcro attached trays could be added for kids to draw on or for mum and dad to rest their drinks – or foot rest, make them perfect for a huge gathering or a cosy night in.

www.mcfarlanelatter.co.uk